

For Immediate Release
Feb. 19, 2010

Contact: Nancy Owen Myers, (541) 515-0089
Lewis Taylor, (541) 434-7038, ltaylor@ulum.com

Lunchsense Founder Featured on the Cover of Mom Magazine

Eugene's Nancy Owen Myers Tells Fellow Mom's How She Does it All

Eugene, Ore. – Mother, multitasker and entrepreneur Nancy Owen Myers graces the pages of Mom Magazine, letting readers in on her secrets to tackling the business world and being a good mother.

Juggling a successful lunchbox company and a healthy family life may seem like a circus act, but Myers gracefully takes it one step at a time, making her a perfect candidate for Mom Magazine's February cover.

"I chose Nancy as our cover mom because I think she's a wonderful example for other mothers to follow," said Mom Magazine editor Kristal Nease. "She's got three kids, she's busy and she had this idea to start her own company. It goes to show that just because you become a mom doesn't mean that you have to put your hopes and dreams on the back burner."

The five-page, question and answer article explains how Myers does what she does. When asked what advice she has for other moms, Myers replied, "Let the kids teach you stuff. Let the kids lead now and then." And how does she manage it all? She says she takes life one bite at a time and allows kids to provide just as much clarity as chaos.

Now in its fifth year of publication, Mom Magazine bills itself as a title dedicated to mid-Willamette Valley moms. Published six times a year, the magazine can be found in area schools, libraries and in businesses that cater to families.

About Lunchsense

Based in Eugene, Ore., Lunchsense offers a line of durable, machine-washable lunch boxes that are designed with both kids and adults in mind. Each lunchbox folds out into a placemat and comes complete with dishwasher-safe food containers, ice pack and drink bottle, and all pieces are free of BPA, lead, phthalates and vinyl. Available in three sizes and eight colors, Lunchsense lunchboxes are designed around the containers, ensuring a perfect fit. For more information, visit www.lunchsense.com

###